AMIGA 1200

Actually a member of the powerful A4000 family, the A1200 utilizes the Advanced Graphics Architecture chip set for outstanding color and 24-bit graphics. The A1200 also uses a 32-bit Motorola 68EC020 14.32MHz processor for greater speed and versatility. The high resolution mode will display up to 256,000 simultaneous colors from a palette of 16.8 million colors. Display output options include RGB analog and digital, VGA (with optional cable), color composite, and RF modulation for output to standard TV. Hardware scan doubling provides flicker-free displays on a variety of multisync monitors with no additional video cards required. Other features include a PCMCIA "credit card" slot for future expansion such as adding RAM, modems, and more. You also get a 96-key keyboard with separate numeric keypad and separate cursor keys in the inverted "T" layout. IDE hard drive interface is included, with room to add a 2.5" IDE hard drive internally. Comes with AmigaDOS 3.0.

We've had the sharpest engineers in the industry come up with their best system-board ever. It is manufactured by IBM and uses IBM's own microprocessor—it even has a three-year warranty. We have made this package totally irresistible by offering all this power at the lowest price ever!

The new Most-Value-for-Price (MVP) 486SLC2 system's microprocessors blaze at 50MHz or 66MHz. Both systems have 16KBytes internal cache—twice that of Intel 486DX microprocessors. Perfectly matched with the motherboard is the power of a VESA Local Bus Super VGA graphics accelerator and a VESA Local Bus IDE hard drive controller. Windows programs run at breathtaking speed and overall performance is fantastic. The system comes standard with 4MBytes RAM—expandable to a full 16MBytes. A math coprocessor is standard, offering even greater power for those using CAD, desktop publishing, spreadsheet, database, graphics, or any calculation-intensive software.

You also get a Super VGA Non-Interlaced Monitor, 101-key keyboard, DOS, Windows, a mouse and mouse pad. A complete system ready to run!

If all this isn't value enough, the motherboard and microprocessor are backed by a limited three-year warranty, while all other components are warranted for a full two years. This is the best machine and best value in the industry! Now is the time to experience true IBM power. Case measures 17"L x 16.5"W x 5.87"H. Call today!

New VESA Local-Bus Technology!

Low-Profile 486 ExpressBUS Computer Only...

The video power you need for Windows and other serious graphical applications is finally here. With the development of the TENEX ExpressBUS, video performance has improved by up to 200%. The TENEX ExpressBUS is our implementation of the industry-standard VESA local-bus. All our ExpressBUS systems include our VESA video controller, with performance exceeding even MCA and EISA.

While processor speeds have leapt dramatically, the computer's ISA expansion bus has been poking along at 8MHz since 1986. NO MORE! Local-bus allows peripherals to receive data at the microprocessor's clock speed! Moreover, data moves along a 32-bit wide path versus ISA's 8-bit path. At 33MHz, this translates into 24 times faster data transfer! You also have two additional, available VESA bus slots, ready for advanced peripherals, such as VESA-standard hard drive controllers.

Our optional VESA-standard caching IDE hard drive controller board (on page 5) has <0.3ms effective access time and up to 14MBytes/sec transfer rate (drive dependent). Standard with a full MByte of cache RAM, you can add up to 16MBytes of cache. Supports two floppy and four IDE hard drives. ExpressBUS fully conforms to VESA standards and will support other VESA devices. The Low-Profile 486 ExpressBUS series highlighted on these pages offers an "all-in-one" motherboard, which fully integrates the VESA-standard video, I/O and drive controllers on the systemboard. These efficient motherboards provide two VESA and three 16-bit expansion slots for plenty of upgrading capability.

Hard Drives For A500

For Your Information...

Why add a hard drive to your Amiga? The main reasons are SPEED and CONVENIENCE. Program loading, reading and writing data are much faster, and annoying disk swapping is greatly reduced. Your programs are only a click away!

All Amigas can accommodate a hard drive. The A2000, A3000, A4000 have room for hard drives internally in standard drive bays. The A500 can accept a hard drive module that plugs into its side port (shown below) or a 2.5" internal hard drive (requires a special IDE hard drive interface, item# 95748, shown below). The A600 and A1200 can be easily upgraded with an internal 2.5" IDE hard drive. (These models already have a built-in IDE interface.)

A600 and A1200 users should buy the complete factory kit that includes documentation and all components needed to add a hard drive (item# C15262, on page 3). A600 owners need an install disk. Please order this item (only $2.00) listed on page 3 and the kit if you are upgrading an A600.

While most hard drive upgrades for the A600 and A1200 are currently IDE drives, other Amigas can add either IDE or SCSI drives with the appropriate interface. IDE interfaces and drives tend to be more economical and popular. SCSI interfaces for the A1200 are now on the market. Choose SCSI for very large drive capacities or if you plan to add other SCSI peripherals (tape back-up, optical disks, etc.).

For the latest Amiga hard drive information, call 219-255-TECH with your fax number ready, and request document 501. We'll automatically fax you the information on the hottest products and best prices immediately! (24 hours a day, 7 days a week!)

TENEX Gift Certificate Winner!

Dear TENEX,
Misty and I, a pair of senior citizens, are preparing to do another mass mailing to 200+ WWII veterans. We are planning a fifty-year reunion. My old C64 computer and my new Star NX1000C printer from TENEX have made this job a snap!

Please keep the catalogues coming; you are my only lifeline to Commodore products, as they are no longer obtainable in the Columbus, Ohio area.

ROC GEN PLUS

Create outstanding video effects on your Amiga! Create your own text and titles with spectacular Amiga graphics and, using the RocGen Plus, combine your favorite video with the studio enhancements of overlay, dissolve and invert "keyhole" effects. Many fine features include a user friendly front panel, an auto video pass-thru (allows signal from Amiga or external video source to pass through the RocGen Plus to monitor or recorder even if Amiga or external video signal is off), an Amiga/video control (provides for user-control of the varying degrees of fade and dissolve between the Amiga graphics and ext. video source simultaneously), and an internal sync generator the RocGen Plus generates its own internal timing signals if it does not sense synchronization from an external video source. Also has an extra video-thru port, an extra RGB-thru port, and an extra Key-In port. Fully compatible with the Amiga 500, 1000, 2000, 3000, and CDTV. From RocTec.

For Your Information...

Amiga Video Capabilities

How can I use my Amiga to make better, more exciting videos? Well, for starters, with your stand alone Amiga you can output still screens and title pages. You simply need a VCR. This is great for placing intros and graphics ahead of your videotaped events.

The next step is genlocking. This allows you to superimpose Amiga images or titles pages over your video recordings. This requires the Amiga, a genlock device, and two VCRs or a VCR and a video camera.

Next, add some titling software and you can, of course, add titles to your video production.

These are a few of the inexpensive ways you can expand your Amiga video horizons. Of course, if you are really serious about video, the sky is the limit. Of video hobbyists who use a computer, about two thirds use an Amiga, often adding peripherals such as the Video Toaster, Time Base Correctors, etc.

MICRO R&D

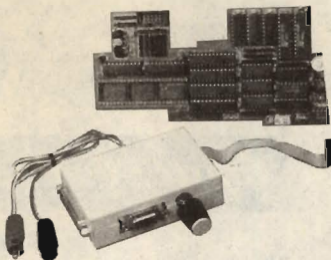

FLICKER BLASTER!

For all you A500/A2000 owners out there who are bothered by the infamous Amiga flicker, a new high-powered, low-cost solution is here. The Flicker Blaster! removes the flicker and visible scan lines: the black lines between each line of the interlaced Amiga display modes. The Flicker Blaster! works with any VGA or MultiSync monitor on the market. The installation is very easy and it works with all versions of AmigaDOS and supports the standard Denise chip as well as the enhanced chip set. ADDED BONUS: One disadvantage to using a VGA monitor is that it does not allow for your Amiga's sound output. Not to worry. The Flicker Blaster! includes a two-channel audio amplifier so that a simple pair of inexpensive non-amplified speakers will instantly get your audio up and going again. It even has a volume control. Simply, no better value for the money. It's here, it's real, it's now! From Micro R&D.

★ = Utilizes AGA

What is PAL vs. NTSC and why does it matter to me?

A great deal of the new Amiga entertainment software is developed in Europe because of the large established Amiga base on that continent. Many Amiga users use a television set for display instead of a monitor. In Europe the display standard for television is PAL (Phase Alternating Line) which produces 625 lines of resolution (represented by 512 lines on the Amiga). In the United States our television standard is NTSC (National Television Standards Committee) which uses 525 lines of resolution (represented by 486 lines on the Amiga). A game written for PAL in Europe will not work on a NTSC television set here in the United States. However, some game programmers write a PAL "boot" disk that you load first and then the game works fine if you use a monitor. A monitor displays PAL with the boot disk, however there is no way of displaying PAL output on an American TV. Look for our new icons above the new games. The PAL icon will signify a PAL only game in which you will need a monitor to display the software. If a game doesn't have a PAL icon it will work fine in the NTSC standard (your standard TV set). We hope you enjoy the new games!

Our Shipping and Return Policy

SHIPMENT. Most items are shipped via UPS. Other modes of shipment include Parcel Post and, for certain heavy items, common truck carrier. TENEX maintains an extensive warehouse with over 50,000 items in stock, and automated systems are in place to speed your order to you. Rapid shipment benefits both you and us. Items not in stock may require 2 to 6 weeks.

DAMAGE. We inspect each item before shipment. Please examine your packages carefully when you receive them and REPORT ANY DAMAGE TO THE CARRIER. No replacement merchandise can be issued unless a damage claim has been filed with the shipper.

RETURNS. We want satisfied customers! If you receive a defective product, call us within 30 days of shipment and request a return ID number. We'll ship a replacement promptly upon receipt of the defective item.

Furthermore, if you are unhappy with a product for any reason, call for a return ID number within 30 days of receiving it, return it to us, and we will promptly replace it or refund your purchase price. (Sorry, opened software can only be replaced with an identical item.) Items returned for replacement MUST include original packaging materials and any manuals, cables, warranty cards, etc. included in the original package. (For your convenience and protection, do not discard packaging materials or mail in warranty cards until you are certain the product is working properly.) Please write or call our Customer Service Department for Return Authorization number prior to returning any items to TENEX. All returns must be shipped to TENEX freight prepaid. All items are subject to inspection by TENEX prior to issuance of replacement merchandise. (Note: Occasionally a manufacturer's warranty policy will require some other means of correcting a defective product. In these cases, we'll assist you in obtaining a satisfactory solution.) Return IDs are valid for 15 days, so please return your merchandise promptly. NOTE: TENEX is not responsible for costs incurred by customers as a result of defective or incompatible products.

APO, FPO, ALASKAN, HAWAIIAN, CANADIAN. All payments must be in U.S. dollars. Checks drawn on Canadian or foreign banks cannot be accepted. Canadian Postal Money Orders payable in U.S. funds are acceptable. VISA, MasterCard or American Express are the preferred methods of payment. APO, FPO, Alaskan, Hawaiian, Canadian, Puerto Rican, Virgin Islands, and Guam orders: add $4.00 to shipping and handling charge to cover postage and insurance costs. Contact us about charges for bulky and/or heavy items. Foreign orders other than above: add $8.00 to shipping and handling charges. TENEX Gift Certificate Winner!

Dear TENEX,
My name is Nick and I am 12 years old. I love computers especially my C64. I fell in love with your catalog because of its very low prices. When I needed a modem, I purchased it from TENEX at a super low price. You have become very helpful to me when I have needed software or printer ribbons. I really appreciate your great prices and service.

Use Your C64 Printer with any IBM-Compatible Computer!

PC-TO-CBM PRINTER PORT ADAPTER

Your Commodore 64 printer doesn't have to sit around collecting dust now that you've bought an IBM-compatible computer. With this clever adapter, you can use your IBM system with virtually any Commodore-compatible printer including the NX-1000C, NX-1000C Rainbow, 1525, 1526, MPS-801/802/803, Gemini II, Star SG10C, SP-1000VC, and many others. The package includes a five-foot cable which has an IBM-compatible parallel port connection on one end and a Commodore 6-pin DIN connector on the other end. The printer driver software converts the parallel port output to Commodore-compatible format. Use your printer as LPT 1, 2, or 3. NOTE: May not be suitable for extensive graphics use. Not compatible with Windows or daisy wheel printers. From Omnitronix, Inc.

MAGNAVOX PROFESSIONAL COLOR MONITOR

The Magnavox Professional 1CM135 sets new standards for versatility in a color monitor! Whatever your current and future needs, this unit will handle them. First, it provides a high-quality composite display perfect for the C64 or C128 operating in 40-column mode. Second, it offers Analog RGB for use with the C128 in its high-res, 80-column mode. Third, the 1CM135 is switchable to Digital RGB, which makes it compatible with IBM's CGA standard. Fourth, for heavy-duty word processing, this monitor lets you flick a switch and convert the color display to easy-on-the-eyes green. And if being compatible with a wide range of computers isn't enough, you can also use the 1CM135 as a TV video display for signals from VCRs, camcorders, etc. It even includes stereo audio inputs and an earphone jack. It features a big 14" CRT (13" viewable), image size and position controls, and a convenient tilt/swivel base. Includes a 9-pin RGB cable and audio/video cables (RCA to RCA). A Great Video Source for Amiga or Commodore!

PANASONIC TV CAMERA

Whether you are using your Amiga with Digi-View or any other video accessory, or your Commodore with ComputerEyes or Video Byte II, you'll need a high-quality, dependable video source. The Panasonic WV-1410 CCTV camera is a high-quality, black and white camera designed for surveillance and other uses. It produces a 525-line scan with a horizontal resolution of 550 lines and a signal-to-noise ratio of more than 43dB. It comes with a f1.6 16mm lens, and accepts other standard C-mount lenses for special applications. The included lens focuses from about 10 inches to infinity.

Please note that although this is a black and white camera, it can be used to produce full-color Amiga images with Digi-View 4.0 and similar packages. Digi-View 4.0 uses a color filter wheel to separately scan each color and produce the final full-color image. Commodore programs like ComputerEyes and Video Byte II work directly with a black and white image. From Panasonic.

FLEXIDRAW VERSION 5.5

This version of the ultimate drawing program has more features than ever. You can still use a light pen as your input tool (sold separately), or you can use a mouse, joystick, or Koala pad. The master disk has the main drawing routines for use with the light pen, as well as sample drawing library, symbol templates, and a music synthesizer program.

The sprite editor/animater adds a great plus to Flexidraw—there's no easier way to edit sprites than with a light pen. The most powerful feature is the ability to use a set of symbols (yours or ours) which can be moved to a second work screen and added to a drawing. Free-hand drawing is very smooth because of an "averaging" function that filters out noise. From Inkwell Systems.
